

QUALITY OF LIFE...INSURANCE®

Protecting loved ones while caring for your own quality of life

QoL

“ I strongly recommend this product because I’m proof of the living benefits that Quality of Life...Insurance policy gave us.”

Amie Tan, American General Life Insurance Company customer

As a trained nurse and a single mom, Amie Tan’s world was focused on caring for and providing for her only child. In fact, putting her daughter’s needs first led to a meeting with her financial advisor to discuss her future plans. Amie and her financial advisor were also friends, having worked together previously.

When they met to discuss life insurance, Amie was familiar with traditional life insurance in which benefits are paid after a death. Her advisor introduced her to the Quality of Life...Insurance (QoL) product, issued by the American General Life Insurance Company. In addition to the death benefit protection it offered, Amie was intrigued by the built-in living benefits the policy provided under the Chronic Illness, Critical Illness and Terminal Illness riders available on all Quality of Life...Insurance policies.

She decided to apply for a 35-year QoL Flex Term policy with a $1,000,000 death benefit that would provide for her daughter in the event Amie’s death. At the time of purchase, Amie was in excellent health.

Fast forward five years and Amie received the devastating diagnosis of stage three breast cancer. She found herself in a reverse role; the young, healthy nurse who took care of her patients was now a patient herself. As always, Amie’s chief concern was her daughter, who was only eight years old at the time.

After her diagnosis, Amie contacted her financial advisor who reminded her of the options available under her policy with the diagnosis of a qualifying critical illness. Amie selected to accelerate her life insurance benefit using the available accelerated rider, and accepted the company’s offer in cash instead of the full life insurance payment at death. Amie qualified for a benefit of $413,000* from her policy and received a check in less than 30 days.

This benefit helped Amie handle the financial burden that was brought about by her illness and helped reduce the stress of worrying about her daughter’s future. Sadly, Amie passed away in September of 2019. According to Amie’s advisor, “It is such a rewarding experience hearing from family members treating you like a hero for helping Amie, especially from their now 12-year-old daughter, who is so smart and definitely have her future set with the money that Amie prepared for her.”

NOT Long-Term Care Insurance

This is a life insurance benefit that also gives you the option to accelerate some or all of the death benefit in the event that you meet the criteria for a qualifying event described in the policy. This policy or certificate does not provide long-term care insurance subject to California long-term care insurance law. This policy or certificate is not a California Partnership for Long-Term Care program policy. This policy or certificate is not a Medicare supplement policy.

An accelerated death benefit such as the Chronic Illness Accelerated Benefit Rider and long-term care insurance provide very different kinds of benefits:

Generally, an accelerated death benefit is a rider to or other provision in a life insurance policy that permits the policy owner to accelerate some or potentially all of the death benefit of a life insurance policy if the insured meets the definition of having a chronic illness as defined in the rider or policy provision. Acceleration of death benefits and payments under such an accelerated death benefit will reduce the death benefit of the policy and reduce other policy values as well, potentially to zero. If the entirety of the insurance amount is accelerated, the policy terminates.

A Long Term Care insurance policy is any insurance policy, certificate, or rider providing coverage for diagnostic, preventive, therapeutic, rehabilitative, maintenance, or personal care services that are provided in a setting other than an acute care unit of a hospital. Long-term care insurance includes all products containing any of the following benefit types: coverage for institutional care including care in a nursing home, convalescent facility, extended care facility, custodial care facility, skilled nursing facility, or personal care home; home care coverage including home health care, personal care, homemaker services, hospice, or respite care; or community-based coverage including adult day care, hospice, or respite care. Long-term care insurance includes disability based long-term care policies but does not include insurance designed primarily to provide Medicare supplement or major medical expense coverage.

If you are interested in long-term care, nursing home or home care insurance, you should consult with an insurance agent licensed to sell that insurance, inquire with the insurance company offering the accelerated death benefits, or visit the California Department of Insurance Internet Web site (www.insurance.ca.gov) section regarding long-term care insurance.

If you choose to accelerate a portion of your death benefit, doing so will reduce the amount that your beneficiary will receive upon your death.

Receipt of accelerated death benefits may affect eligibility for public assistance programs, such as Medi-Cal or Medicaid. Prior to electing to receive the accelerated death benefit, you should consult with the appropriate social services agency concerning how receipt of accelerated death benefits may affect that eligibility.

If the policy terminates, the Chronic Illness Accelerated Death Benefit Rider will also terminate.

LTC expense reimbursement vs. ADB benefits are paid without receipts. LTC benefits are based on benefit levels and a pool of money selected at the time of purchase, and ADB benefits depend on the life policy value. ADB benefits will reduce the death benefit that the policyholder's heirs will receive, and the use of the ADB proceeds is unrestricted, whereas LTC benefits will not reduce the death benefit that the policyholder's heirs will receive and the policyholder must use LTC benefits for LTC services.
