18 term periods. Protection tailored to your needs.

Select-a-Term

When the initial level term period ends, you will have the opportunity to extend your coverage at a lower death benefit amount.
One size doesn’t always fit all—neither should your life insurance.

Select-a-Term is based on a simple idea:
Your policy is for the amount of benefit you need, for the length of time you need it. Other insurance companies sell policies that last for 10, 15, 20 or 30 years. Select-a-Term offers insurance for 10 years, any annual duration from 15-30 years, or 35 years.

Buy only what you need
Select-a-Term is flexible enough to match your situation, and economical because you don’t pay for insurance you don’t need.

Convertibility
Full convertibility to a permanent life insurance policy up to the end of the level-premium period (or attainment of age 70 of the insured, whichever comes first). This conversion option is available without evidence of insurability or additional underwriting. Ask your financial professional for details.
What do you want to protect?
The homeowner
The guaranteed death benefit can equal your remaining mortgage balance, helping to ensure your family could continue living in the home if you were to pass away before the mortgage is fully paid.

The sole household income provider
Loss of income in a single income household, whether by death or by significant illness, can have effects that are felt quickly. Select-a-Term can serve as income replacement to help meet both needs – without paying for insurance when it’s no longer needed.

Business owners
Business owners who can’t afford to reward workers with large bonuses can consider using life insurance as a means to extend key employee tenure with the company. Select-a-Term’s customizable policies can help provide a valuable incentive for workers approaching retirement.

The college tuition saver
If you have children you wish to send to college, but you pass away before building up a sufficient college fund, it could be difficult for them to navigate those costs alone. Select-a-Term death benefit proceeds can serve as a backup plan for college tuition and provide a way for your children to further their education, even in your absence.

The retiree
An older adult may no longer have life insurance through an employer but may still wish to provide some financial protection for their loved ones. A Select-a-Term policy can help meet this need.

An Accelerated Death Benefit Rider (ABR) is not a replacement for Long Term Care Insurance (LTCI). It is a life insurance benefit that gives you the option to accelerate some of the death benefit in the event the insured meets the criteria for a qualifying event described in the policy. The rider does not provide long-term care insurance subject to California insurance law, is not a California Partnership for Long-Term Care program policy. The policy is not a Medicare supplement.

ABRs and LTCI provide different types of benefits. An ABR allows the insured to access a portion of the life insurance policy’s death benefit while living. ABR payments are unrestricted and may be used for any purpose. LTCI provides reimbursement for necessary care received due to the inability to perform activities of daily living or cognitive impairment. The activities of daily living are bathing, continence, dressing, eating, toileting, and transferring.

LTCI coverage may include reimbursement for the cost of a nursing home, assisted living, home health care, homemaker services, adult day care, hospice services or respite care for the primary caretaker and the benefits may be conditioned on certain requirements or meeting an elimination period or limited by type of service, the number of days or a maximum dollar limit. Some ABRs and all LTCI are conditioned upon the insured not being able to perform two or more of the activities of daily living or being cognitively impaired.

This ABR pays proceeds that are intended to qualify for favorable tax treatment under section 101(g) of the Internal Revenue Code. The federal, state, or local tax consequences resulting from payment of an ABR will depend on the specific facts and circumstances, and consequently advice and guidance should be obtained from a personal tax advisor prior to the receipt of any payments. ABR payments may affect eligibility for, or amounts of, Medicaid or other benefits provided by federal, state, or local government. Death benefits and policy values, such as cash values, premium payments and cost of insurance charges if applicable, will be reduced if an ABR payment is made. ABR payments may be limited by the contract or by outstanding policy loans.
